A brief statistical look at events in 2015

The library hosted 36 events: 3 private/non-profit, 1 corporate, 19 ceremony-only weddings and 13 weddings with ceremony and reception. There was only one year in which the library had 41 events in a wedding season. All other years there were less than 40 events. (Please note that these numbers include events only, which the library classifies separately from meetings --simpler, smaller gatherings that just require a basic reservation for a meeting room.) Those 36 events yielded $60,446 in income for the library. In the course of hosting those events, the library's operating budget incurred $3,123 worth of event setup costs. If events were to change substantially (or cease altogether) at the library, it would have been $57,323 we'd need to replace in 2015.

Here's a breakdown of average revenue per event:

Ceremony only: $1,388

• Ceremony and reception: $2,979

Nonprofit event: $364Other private event: $588

Past Board Efforts

Beginning in January 2015, a group of library trustees began meeting and working with a group of the library's neighbors in an effort to dissolve tension, open lines of communication and find solutions to problems related to loading/unloading times and noise, terrace event noise, and loading/unloading parking.

Among the changes made as a result are:

- No Parking signs have been installed in a number of places along the former Mulberry Street.
- We've discussed parking enforcement with Police Chief Gannaway.
- The library's event coordinator provides her cell phone number to neighbors and responds to calls when received.
- The event coordinator met with city's event coordinator on arrangements for and management of events at the library and reviewed guidelines with vendors making deliveries to the library.
- As noise associated with delivering tents has occasionally been a problem, the library is discussing with a donor the possibility of installing permanent tent tie-downs on the terrace. This would move tent delivery from the former

- Mulberry Street to Fourth Street under a delivery procedure okayed by the City Administrator.
- DJs, photographers, musicians are currently directed to the parking ramp.
 Caterers' vehicles usually are not. For caterers to park in the parking ramp, many caterer vehicles do not fit in the ramp. Also, food safety rules frown on food being moved through crowds of people as would happen if food arrived when the public is using the library. As load off and load on the elevator takes some time, people with disabilities have had to wait extended periods when we have had caterers use the parking ramp.

Board of Trustees Stillwater Public Library 224 Third Street North Stillwater, Minnesota 55082

Re: Events held at the library

I would like to formally submit this feedback and these suggestions to the Board of Trustees of the Stillwater Public Library. My goal is for the library to adjust some of its current policies regarding the events held at the library. I am hoping that we can find compromises that will allow the library to continue to generate funds with events, but also further reduce some of the intrusions on the lives of those neighbors most affected by these events.

I acknowledge and appreciate that there has been a good faith effort this year in trying to accommodate our requests and minimize the problems. I was very happy to see the loading zone signs go up on the north side of the building, the yellow curb along the fire lane, and that someone is now stationed on the loading ramp while caterers are unloading for the events. However, there are items that were brought up in a previous meeting with some of the board members that have not been addressed.

The first item is that the signs directly across from the loading ramp do not address, specifically, loading and unloading in the fire lane. I understand that the board followed the suggestion of the fire department with these signs, but as we knew as neighbors, without specifically addressing the idea of LOADING and UNLOADING, drivers often ignore the no parking signs with the rationalization that they will only be there for a short time. That short time is very subjective, with some thinking that twenty to thirty minutes is a short time.

Another request made by the neighbors was that some of the vendors be required to load in and out in the parking ramp to help minimize the noise and parking congestion on and near the loading ramp. Although I understand that some of the vendor vehicles will not fit in the parking ramp, I fail to understand why those that do fit are not required to load in and out in the parking ramp. Moving some of the vendor vehicles to that door would help with some of the parking and loading problems on the north side of the building.

The next topic I would like to address is the City's Code of Ordinances, specifically section 31-325, wherein the city has outlined what are and are not allowable uses in each zoning district. As you know, the library is zoned as Public Administration, and the following are three uses in this zoning that are NOT allowed in the Code of Ordinances. Those uses are as follows:

- Outside entertainment, commercial (8)
- Outside sales or special events (8)
- Exterior phonographs, paging systems, musical instruments, etc. that may disturb the peace and quiet of the public.

Footnote (8) reads as follows: These uses may be approved directly by the city council if the event is a one-time special event not occurring on a regular basis.

I am in possession of the email, dated May 10, 2016, from Dave Magnuson to Doug Menikheim regarding these points. This email is added to the Board of Trustees meeting packet for June.

Mr Magnuson summarized the "talking points" as follows:

- 1) The library is a permitted use.
- 2) The events are secondary to the function of the library.
- 3) As a secondary use, the Council approved the bonding for the construction of the library addition with a terrace for event rental.
- 4) No outside music is allowed after 10 PM unless the event requests a variance and the Council holds a public hearing to approve it.

Although it is true that the City Council approved the bonding for the construction of the library addition, and that those plans included the terrace for event rental, there is no notation about an amplification of sound that disturb the peace and quiet of the public, even though that is noted as a use that is not allowed in the zoning codes. Although one could infer that events would have the amplification of sound, it is not stated specifically, just as Mr Magnuson points out that "regular basis" is not defined specifically.

I think anyone can rationalize that 40-50 events in a six-month period should be considered as a "regular basis", just as most can rationalize that events of this nature will most likely have an amplification of sound. By that logic, you can or cannot assume one without the other.

On point #2, that events are a secondary use to the function of the library, I would like to point out that it is true that rented events can be considered a secondary use for this library now, it should also be pointed out that most libraries do not also operate as an outdoor event center to generate funds, so this should have been considered a new use, which would not qualify as a permissible use without a Special Use Permit. I would point to the Historic Courthouse, also zoned Public Administration, which does hold a Special Use Permit dating back to the 1980s, for its events.

The Stillwater Public Library, although considered a gathering place for the general public, has not been granted a Special Use Permit or a Variance for the new use, which began in 2007, as an outdoor event center for the purpose of generating rental income. Although a comment at a city council meeting and approval of building plans are occasionally used as justification for a new use, when a use specifically violates a zoning code, it is usually required that it is only allowed to do so by way of a Special Use Permit from the city council.

I point all of this out because there is a case to be made that for the last ten seasons the library has been violating the City Code of Ordinances. This violation has undoubtable caused problems and changed the lives of some neighboring residents.

I have spent hundreds of hours researching and documenting, and over a thousand dollars in sound proofing, legal fees and other misc. expenses all in an effort to squelch the noise and put an end to the problems caused by the library events. I have been advised that there are few different civil options, but this would be expensive, both for the library and for myself. I strongly believe that sitting down with the Board of Trustees to try and find a compromise is the best approach at this time.

Although I would like to see the events come to an end entirely, I do not think this is a fair or equitable resolution for anyone. I do not want to stop those funds from helping maintain the services our public library provides for our community, but I do not believe that our neighborhood should pay such a high price for the library to serve the entire community. I am also very aware that the city council is not in favor of increasing the city's portion of the library's budget, leaving the library searching for ways to generate funds. Therefore, I submit the following items I would like to see implemented or changed and I welcome a discussion about these ideas:

LIMIT THE NUMBER OF WEDDING RECEPTIONS TO ONE EACH CALANDAR MONTH. The number of vendors and how those vendors park, the alcohol, and a wedding party and guests who often act very entitled having paid their rental fees, all seem to cause the most problems. I see a very distinct difference in how people act when it is just a ceremony vs when they are settled in for an eight to twelve-hour event.

I would like to see no more than ONE wedding reception or similar party-style event that allows the consumption of alcohol AND is scheduled past 10 PM each month. Ideally this could be set up to be scheduled the same day (Friday or Saturday only) every month. For example; the second Saturday of every month. This way the neighbors will always know, without having to check several emails, and we can plan accordingly.

I realize this could limit the number of wedding bookings, as some couples are adamant in wanting to have the ceremony and reception at the same location. However, as you are aware, there are more bookings for ceremony only events than there are for a combination of the ceremony and reception. I think that given time the number of ceremony only weddings and other types of events that are slowly starting to be booked will fill the financial gap that will be left by cutting the wedding receptions from three to six per month to one per month.

- 2. LIMIT THE HOURS OF SUNDAY THRU THURSDAY EVENTS TO 9 AM to 9 PM. Given that the library has nearly a dozen residential neighbors within fifty to one hundred feet, unlike the Historic Courthouse, I don't think this is an unreasonable request for weeknights to include Sundays.
- 3. LIMIT THE HOURS OF ALL OTHER FRIDAY AND SATURDAY EVENTS (excluding the one reception with the option to go until midnight and the Light a Spark event) TO 9AM to 10 PM.
- 4. ANNUAL LIGHT A SPARK FOURTH OF JULY EVENT. Provided the same care is taken every year, in relation to the neighbors, as it was this year, I have no objection to the event continuing in its current form and would NOT consider this to be the one monthly event as outlined in #1.
- 5. AUCTIONEER, HORNS AND OTHER BOUNCING SOUNDS. There are few sounds that seem to bounce and amplify differently in the neighborhood. Lakeview's annual fundraiser with an auctioneer, and horn instruments seem to be two of those sounds. Although the auction was shorter this year and Anne did try to squelch the sound some, it was still more than a minor annoyance. I would like to see this auction handled without amplification. Last weekend we had an issue with a band but Anne was able to quickly adjust that volume to an acceptable level. I would like to see this response every time, instead of being told it's not too loud. Early in this summer's event season I was told, at about 9:45 PM, by the officer working a wedding reception; "I don't think it's that loud". This was his personal opinion, but he even acknowledged that he wouldn't want to live here when I pointed to my bedroom window. This should not be at each officer's discretion. If the neighbors were complaining about volume during every event, I could understand some push-back but that it not the case. I don't know that there have been more than a handful of volume complaints this entire season.
- VENDOR VEHICLES THAT FIT IN THE PARKING RAMP SHOULD BE REQUIRED TO LOAD IN AND
 OUT IN THE PARKING RAMP. This will help reduce the noise and congestion around the loading ramp.
- 7. FIRE LANE. Although it will be a great benefit to have someone sit on the loading ramp while vendors are unloading, our biggest problem seems to be with the tent people. They are often unloading well in advance of an event and often loading back up a day or two later. I address how this could be handled in #8. If we continue to have a person on the loading ramp and start fining these vendors, I don't think additional signage to specifically address un/loading is necessary.
- 8. FINES FOR VENDORS IF VEHICLE IS PHOTOGRAPHED IN THE FIRE LANE WITHOUT A DRIVER AT THE WHEEL. I believe this explains itself. I would think that the vendor contract could be amended to add a clause stating that $50 will be deducted from payment if a vehicle is parked illegally. Or, if the library is not paying the vendor, deduct $50 from the renter's deposit and they can withhold it from payment to the vendor.

9. EVENTS TO BE LIMITED TO THE FOOTPRINT OF THE BUILDING. As explained in a previous email to Mike, during a wedding event in June, part of the festivities included the amplification of music and dancing in Mulberry Street (also our driveway). This went on for about twenty minutes and unfortunately I picked that time to come home from work. I was blocked out and stuck sitting in my car in the middle of Mulberry. Amending the policy and/or contract to keep all activities (other than pictures) within the footprint of the building should stop this from happening again.

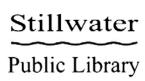

I did have one more request and that was to stop all events on Sundays, but I realized this was probably too big of an ask. When the library is closed on Sundays it is wonderful not having cars constantly turning around in our driveway and people mulling about. I know that does not sound very neighborly but the traffic and number of people has increased drastically since the library expanded and the walking path was introduced next to our property. I understand that this is simply a growing pain and there is nothing that can be done about it, but if event renters could be gently persuaded to pick a different day of the week, or even if Sunday events could be concluded by early afternoon, it would be greatly appreciated.

I would like to stress that these thoughts and suggestions are my own. Although some neighbors may agree with all of the requests, others may agree with only some or none. Those neighbors living closest to the library, who I know have had issues with the events, have been given a copy of this letter and have been notified that they are free to attend the meeting on September 13 with their own feedback and ideas.

I greatly look forward to discussing these items with you all, and I hope you find these compromises to be workable solutions.

Thank you so very much for your time.

Stillwater Public Library Strategic Plan 2014-2017: Assessment

Before beginning the final year of the 2014-2017 Strategic Plan, the Board of Trustees asked for an assessment of what we have accomplished with the plan and what is still to be achieved – and what we've learned throughout the process that might inform future long-range planning efforts.

The Stillwater Public Library worked with Library Strategies to develop a strategic plan that would help make library services more efficient and move the library toward deeper relationships with segments of the community and key partners. The consultants hastened to inform us that the library was providing excellent services, but that as the community grows, changes, and diversifies, new efforts would be needed to bring the library closer to its residents. Library Strategies characterized the plan as challenging but thought it was achievable.

Of the many priorities outlined in our strategic plan, we have made the most progress in selecting a new staffing pattern, working with a design team to reimagine the facility, training and retraining our staff, and working with the City of Stillwater on concrete projects such as the classification/compensation study. Where working with other organizations is identified in the plan, we have had to adapt the schedule or the actions to suit the other organizations' goals and objectives.

In summary, we are completing the 2014-2016 groundwork necessary to support the thrust of the 2017 implementation plan: increased outreach, community engagement, and a clearer public understanding of the library.

Progress on Goals: ✓ =substantial progress has occurred

GOAL 1 Maximize Use of the Building Space and Collections to Better Address Community Needs

✓ GOAL 1 - Strategy 1: Develop a service model	After research and discussion, the staff to allow for increased community engagement	suggested that a service model that featured a co-located desk would be the best choice for Stillwater as it would reduce confusion for the public, improve public relations, and increase outreach to the community without increasing the size of the staff. Its implementation is dependent on the completion of our building reconfiguration project.

✓ GOAL 1 - Strategy 2: Restructure and right- size collections to better meet future community needs: Create a plan to increase virtual collections and reduce hard copy materials over time; Explore options for the St. Croix Collection	The library has refined and accelerated its weeding program of hard copy materials and increased expenditures for electronic materials while remaining cognizant of the plateauing usage of some electronic materials.
✓ GOAL 1 - Strategy 3: Assess and improve current and projected space use: Contract with a consultant to conduct a space and facilities study for implementation by the Library to maximize efficient service and patron/staff security; Partner with the Foundation to assess and address the various terrace issues	The library engaged the services of MSR Design for a space and facilities study, made decisions about improvements to the facility, and is ready to implement changes to the building. Donors to the SPL Foundation provided a shade structure to make the terrace even more useable and enjoyable.
✓ GOAL 1 - Strategy 4: Restructure open hours to include Sundays and later hours	A gift from the SPL Foundation funded Sunday hours September 2015 through May 2016 and September through December 2016. Funding for 2017 Sundays is unsure at this time. Opening additional hours beyond Sundays is on hold due to lack of funds.

GOAL 2 Foster a Culture of Organizational Innovation and Effectiveness

✓ GOAL 2 - Strategy 1: Implement a staffing plan based on the new service model and changes in the facility	Planning is taking place for staffing once colocation of the service desks is complete. We have planned and trained for the new public service desk. We are analyzing annual patterns to see when staff may be redirected to other tasks. We are investigating techniques and tools for managing off-desk time.
 ✔ GOAL 2 - Strategy 2: Maximize human resources Improve human resource management support Fund staff training and professional development, especially for technology and community outreach Create a tech-savvy environment and culture where 	The library has made good progress on all but the last of these bullets. Addition of an HR Director at the City of Stillwater has provided support for human resources management with advice on specific personnel issues and development of the class/comp study. Improvements in the library's budget for continuing education and the increases in offerings such as webinars have allowed more staff to participate in training activities. The staff is more tech savvy due to an internal

- all staff keep pace with technology
- Create a succession plan for staff leadership positions
- Project future staff position requirements and descriptions, addressing the changing nature of the work environment emphasis on technology skills and the cross training that is occurring leading up to the colocation of the desks. A Board committee has investigated a succession plan, and key staff are working on transition plans. Once co-location has occurred and we have some experience with the new staffing model we will look at a long range staffing plan in order to address this final bullet.

GOAL 2 - Strategy 3: Advance and improve the relationships with critical public partners

Enhance City/Library collaboration and understanding:

- Improve Library Board to City Council and administration connections and Director/Library staff to City administration and staff relationships
- Increase City Council understanding of Library operations, directions and services
- Develop areas of Library support for advancement of City goals, such as economic development, marketing, etc.

Review, monitor and enhance the relationship with the Washington County Library System to improve SPL patron services and efficiency:

- Actively participate in Washington County planning processes
- Transfer additional Library functions to Washington County when reasonable cost-effective, and mutually agreeable
- Collaborate with the Washington County Library to improve joint capacities, especially in technology.

This strategy needs more attention. Developing a communication plan for the City Council and meeting with the Council more frequently are the first steps.

The Director participated in the WCL planning process. WCL's statements about associate libraries in its strategic plan and quoted in news media must be investigated. The WCL/SPL contract ends in December. A new contract must be negotiated.

GOAL 3 Broaden communication, outreach and services throughout the community

✓ GOAL 3 - Strategy 1: Expand outreach to underserved communities

- Expand programs and service offerings for teens
- Ensure that the Library is a welcoming place, in all service areas, for seniors and people with physical challenges
- Increase service to, education about, and the celebration of, ethnically diverse populations to foster greater understanding in the community

The Teen Advisory Board has been re-energized and re-animated, with its members helping to plan programming. The Youth Services Program Assistant, funded by a grant from SPLF, allowed the library to ramp up summer programming for teens. In the design of the 2005-06 expansion of the library, staff members worked with Courage St. Croix to minimize barriers for seniors and people with physical challenges, but as we do more outreach to seniors, we will see that our programming and services incorporate the needed requirements in our offerings.

✓ GOAL 3 - Strategy 2: Increase public awareness of Library services

- Coordinate internal staff marketing activities and train staff to support promotional efforts
- Create and implement a marketing plan to increase awareness of the broad array of services at the Library
- Redesign the website to improve usability, simplify access, and increase patron interaction with social media

A new staff mechanism for PR, public information and marketing has been implemented. WCL has just purchased a product from Civic Technologies that may give us analytics on our users and community. The website has been successfully redesigned and a monthly e-newsletter created.

Event listings now appear on the self-check screens. With the help of Board member Spike Carlsen, the "Library Corner" columns is published in the Stillwater Gazette.

GOAL 3 - Strategy 3: Build new and sharpen existing partnerships, based on the Library's future directions, to enhance Library resources, services, and programs

- Enhance Library support for, and collaboration with, the Foundation and Friends to advance marketing and fundraising efforts
- Review existing community partnerships and

The library's relationship with the Friends and Foundation grows and deepens. The Foundation has begun an endowment fund and is discussing what it needs to strengthen its fundraising capabilities. Staff members are strengthening existing partnerships where appropriate.

- maintain/expand effective relationships
- Develop new partnerships that support the future directions for the Library in marketing, fundraising, programs and outreach
- Explore a mutually collaborative partnership with the school district and/or community education

LESSONS LEARNED THAT MAY INFORM FUTURE PLANNING PROCESSES

When Library Strategies completed its work, the consultants reiterated that the staff was currently fully deployed and that completing the plan would be challenging. Many libraries establish a budget for the strategic plan that is over and above the usual operations budget. SPL did not do that with this plan. Any future strategic plans should have a realistic budget for the creation, supervision, and implementation of the plan.

For example:

- Staff members became part of a "management team" that did not previously exist with no additional hours to devote to it.
- Staff members served on the Building Study Task Force with no additional budgeted hours.
- The library has expanded services to teens with no additional public program, materials, and staff hours. Enhanced services are dependent on Foundation grants.

In a three-year plan, it is important to be flexible on the schedule. Deadlines or target dates assigned at the plan's creation must be flexible, particularly if any implementation steps are dependent on the completion of a previous step.

The overall goals are the most important elements of the plan. Implementation steps may happen at different dates or in a different order from what you have planned. The important questions is: are you moving closer to the overall goals? (As outlined above, we are indeed moving closer toward accomplishing our core goals, knowing there will be even more substantial action in the final year of implementation.)

You may order the activities over which you have control, but any other organization that is participating in elements of your plan will answer to their own priorities and schedule.

Bringing support organizations into the planning process as early as possible will ensure plan support earlier. Library Strategies requested a planning committee that included staff and support organization members.

Advice from Library Strategies for future planning efforts from an article distributed to clients:

There are a number of fundamental approaches to making the strategic planning process work – and even fun (well, as fun as this sort of thing can get):

- 1. Do it quickly. A good, comprehensive strategic planning process from beginning to action should take no more than four months. Sometimes they take a bit longer because of difficulties in getting decision-makers together. But it is more important to move through the process and into action than getting bogged down in assuring that every word or approach is perfect. Action is the goal, not a 3-ring binder.
- 2. Keep it fun. Instill as much fun and humor into the process as possible. Food and chocolate may be essential. Make light of the fact that planning can be deadly. Have fun with it yourself however that works best with your style.
- 3. Keep it short. Yes, the whole process should be done quickly, but each planning team meeting should be well structured, organized, and short. One-and-a-half to two hours maximum should be the rule for planning team meetings. If possible, limit the number of planning team meetings in the entire process to three or four and conduct much of the detail work remotely. Longer retreats or sessions which are sometimes a necessity should always end on time, and ideally ahead of schedule (people will be grateful!).
- 4. Focus on folks. People involved in the planning efforts are your most critical resource. Pay attention to their personal interests, needs, directions. If they like you as a facilitator or project leader, they are likely to appreciate the process and embrace the final plan.
- 5. Process is all important. A successful effort results in needed organizational changes or shifts, not pieces of paper. Thus, how the planning process is conducted is vitally important in getting the people who will carry it out buying into the plan. A weak plan with energized individuals is better than a strong plan with no one willing to carry it out.

Comments

Weeding is taking place in collections. E-budget has been established as a line in the City in addition to Huelsmann grants from SPLF.

A task force worked with MSR Design to identify building improvements. A contractor has been selected and co-location work will begin soon. Shade structure completed and some informal furniture added to terrace.

Sundays September 2016 through December 2016 are scheduled.

The City of Stillwater has hired an HR Director. The City and the library are engaged in a classification and compensation study. Tech training is a component of staff meetings.

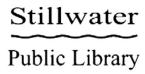

There is new cooperation with the City on HR issues, historical preservation, and health insurance. The SPL Director helped develop WCL's new strategic plan.

With the help of the Teen Advisory Board, there is increased programming for teens; the teen collection is being weeded and refreshed; the teen library is being examined for physical enhancement. SPLF and Friends are examining resources for hearing a loop in the meeting room. Among the first targets for increased outreach are seniors and adult basic education students.

The library has a new website, an e-newsletter, and a printed/mailed newsletter. Staff duties have been reassigned, resulting in more coverage in area news media. SelfChecks now announce upcoming programs.

An inventory shows that the library currently has many partners which contribute greatly to library operations. Off-desk staff hours will allow the library to solidify, improve, and extend partnerships to expand outreach and effectiveness.

Stillwater Public Library

City Council Messaging Plan 2016-2017

It is clear that the current City Council is unsure of many of the library's aspects. Some members are asking for more information and more meetings on a regular basis. However, the Council has a very busy schedule and many issues to cover. It is incumbent on the library Board to present the Council with information about the library in a timely, succinct, and comprehensible manner.

Key Concepts

- 1. The Library Board is the body comparable to the City Council. Most communications should be delivered to the Council by the Board.
- 2. To achieve its goals, the Board must speak with one voice. Differing agendas on the part of the Board members will blur and confuse communications. The nine distinct voices and perspectives of the Board should be used to shape Board policies and the Board's voice. Outside of our board room, those nine voices should sing the same song.
- 3. It is best if all Council members hear the same message, ideally at the same time.
- 4. The library Director's primary role in Council communication is to provide the Board with the information that it needs to make its points. Other staff members may also help with information gathering. It is also the role of Director and staff to work with City staff to see that they are informed of library operations and can support the Council in its work regarding the library.

FORMAL COMMUNICATIONS

Formal Messages

As a precursor to formal communication efforts, the board should identify at most three messages (updated on a roughly annual basis) that it wants to impart to the Council (and perhaps to other key audiences, as well), recognizing that the Council itself may require or events may call for different or additional communications.

Possible 2016-17 topics include:

1. During the 2017 budget hearing, it was apparent that the Council needs enhanced confidence in the Board's role in fiscal responsibility – not so much in accounting as in creative financial problem solving.

- 2. It appears that the Council may be unaware of the exact provisions and the implications of the State of Minnesota's body of public library law. The Board should work to improve Council understanding of these legal constraints.
- 3. Our communications efforts must also counteract many messages in popular media: Public libraries and our public library in particular are not fading away. The library is vital and relevant and at the heart of our community. Usage patterns change, new programs and materials are added, but Stillwaterites are still very supportive of their library.

Formal Documents

At a minimum, the Council should receive:

- An easily understandable annual report not just the data points but a narrative about their significance and the story they tell
- A budget narrative not just the numbers but an explanation of their meaning and context
- Board of trustees approved meeting minutes (and/or a summary of key topics and actions via email after each board meeting)

Formal Meetings

At one point, the library Board stated the aim of meeting with the Council four times per year, once in a budget hearing and three times to focus on non-monetary concerns. This schedule was never achieved, in part because the great recession demanded so much Council attention. Four times per year may be more than we can hope for, but a presence in the budget process and two additional meetings to cover non-budget topics might be possible to achieve. As an example of a possible meeting that would improve understanding, we might have invited the Council to meet at the library so that we could describe the co-location of the desks on site. Whatever the number, this is something that must consistently be on the board's radar.

INFORMAL COMMUNICATIONS

Other Communication Avenues

Informal Contacts - Board members must make themselves known to the Council in order to foster familiarity and trust. City Council members are active members of the community. Remember that they must be out in public because they face election. They often participate in community events. These events give Board members an opportunity to meet with Council members informally and also show Board support for other community organizations. Even in these informal settings, it is a good idea for Board members to be gracefully "on message." Board members may also meet with individual Council members to discuss the library at coffee meetings or some other casual approach.

Library eNewsletter – The City Council and key City staff should automatically receive the e-newsletter. Each issue should include some article about an aspect of the library that would increase the community's – and therefore the Council's – understanding of library operations, issues, and successes. The library has solicited their subscription to the newsletter and must try again to enroll any City official who has not already subscribed.

Council Liaison - The City Council has appointed liaisons to its boards and commissions. The liaison can serve an important role in fostering Council understanding of the library and its issues. The liaison may be a member of the library Board or may not. It is incumbent on the Board to make certain that the liaison has all the needed information about the library. To be of the most use, the liaison's communications must be two-way in order to explain library issues and constraints to the Council as well as explaining Council concerns to the Board.

Once this plan has been adopted or modified, te implementation of the plan might be assigned to a Board committee or task force that will oversee its implementation and delivery.

Director's Report

Relationship with the Board/Issues: A new report, Public Libraries: A Vital Space for Family Engagement, released by Harvard Family Research Project and the Public Library Association issues a call to action for libraries to strengthen their efforts to engage families in children's learning. The study points out ways in which libraries engage families:

- Reach Out: Libraries reach out to families to promote the programs, collections, and services that are vital in a knowledge economy.
- Raise Up: Libraries elevate family views and voices in how library programs and services are developed and carried out.
- Reinforce: Libraries guide and model the specific actions that family members can take to support learning, reaffirming families' important roles and strengthening feelings of efficacy.
- Relate: Libraries offer opportunities for families to build peer-to-peer relationships, social networks and parent-child relationships.
- Reimagine: Libraries are expanding their community partnerships; combining resources and extending their range; improving children's and families' well-being; and linking to new learning opportunities.

SPL engages in all of these practices, recognizing that one of the most powerful agents of children's learning is the family. In engaging the family we are helping families build habits that promote children's lifelong learning. As this study points out, our services such as story time and early literacy programming help children get ready for school. Libraries underpin formal education for school-age children's afterschool and summer learning experiences. We see concern for their children as a great motivator for bringing adults to the library where they find our offerings for adults that promote job seeking, computer, and other skills.

The study also finds that libraries are essential community partners in contributing to more equitable learning opportunities for children living in poverty or from low-income homes. For the many children without preschool experience, libraries fill gaps in their access to early learning experiences. For those without access to afterschool programs, the library offers safe spaces and free access to high-speed Internet connections and quality digital media and technology makes learning tools available.

Goals and Objectives: On Monday, September 12, we have an organizational meeting with Gardner Builders and MSR Design to outline the stages and schedule of the construction work. Unfortunately for us (but fortunately for him) Spike will miss this first meeting as he is biking in France. * We are gathering and analyzing the partnership operations of others for pointers. Maureen was so good as to check with some Dakota County Library staff on their partnership activities. Their strategic plan also calls for increased partnerships as does the new strategic plan for the Washington County Library and many others. * Staff continue to work on their transition plans.

Community and Professional Relationships: The importance of the library as place should not be overlooked in the approach to partnerships. The library has agreed to partner with AAUW to support and advertise a program that will happen at the library. AAUW will hold a program on Women and Education in Muslim Countries and has asked for a partnership in advertising the program. We are also co-sponsoring programs with TED x Stillwater for this fall and winter. The first program is on October 7 at 10 AM and focuses on Photography for Change.

Staff and Personnel: The public reaction to the vibrant summer reading program for children that we experienced this summer is causing us to question our plans for releasing information staff from desk duty year round. When children attend programs they bring parents and caregivers with them. Those adults have questions and needs that must be addressed. This argues that off-desk time during the active months of June and July may still be in-library time to handle the press of business.* Currently, Flaherty and Hood are completing the market analysis for City-wide positions in the classification and compensation study. The City of Stillwater should receive a number of reports by mid-October. These should include such products as recommendations on pay, pay structure, and benefits. After the reports are transmitted, there will be an appeals process for job ratings. At that time the City will develop plans for implementation that will have to be negotiated with the various unions.

Business and Finance: Tent companies are revising where they will erect tents due to increased adverse weather events. The companies that have installed tents on our terrace would like to see permanent tent tie-downs. We have no more events with tents this year, but part of our anticipated revenue this year is for bookings in 2017. Some may be dependent on the ability to erect tents. We have a donor who is interested in providing us with permanent tent tie-downs who is waiting to hear if we would like to install them.

Technology: We had included a system of monitors managed by a single server to advertise library programs at the entrances to the library. This would allow us to update all displays with a single change and would look neater and cleaner than overflowing bulletin boards. We had received a quote for this type of system from 3M. However, 3M no longer sells such a product. We received information from the Dakota County Library that they had purchased their system from Tierney Brothers. Their system is much more expensive than the system that 3M quoted. I have pulled this item which was quoted as $7,000 by 3M from our 2017 capital budget request as we needed to reduce it by $15,000. If we are still interested in such a system we will need a new quote and a source of funding.
